

Candidate 3 evidence

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
SECTION 2
⑤ In the novel 'Lord of the Flies' by William Golding I will ex a group of British school children get stranded on a deserted island after a plane crash during a time of war.
In the essay I will explore the conflict which arises as the boys attempt to create a viable society in order to survive and seek rescue.
• In the beginning of the novel - main protagonist Ralph attempts to rally the group by blowing "the conch" in order to

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	"Summon" the rest of the children. After the initial designation of roles is with Ralph being the is voted the leader (much to the annoyance of Jack) and Jack and his choir boys being given the role of hunters, Ralph begins sees that things aren't going to plan and confides in his advisor Piggy that "things are breaking up" and much of it has to do with the power struggle between him and Jack.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• As the - novel continues Ralph and Jack continue to argue and the fight for power. Ralph is

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	annoyed at Jack for letting the fire go out on top of the mountain and Jack resents Ralph for taking the leadership role Jack thinks should be his. Ralph Ralph is more open to resolve this conflict asking Jack "Why do you hate me?" Jack however is not so open to a dialogue of conflict resolution and refuses to answer this question.
•	As the novel continues^{continues} Simon who has just makes made a discovery about the island as all the boys fear a mythical 'Beast' based on unsubstantiated

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	highlights that the evil causing conflict on the island is inside all of the boys.
10	When Simon attempts to alert the boys about his epiphany on the Beast being an internal Beast rather than extra an external literal danger to them, the boys are so ramped up with fear and excitement with a tribal dance that when he crawls out of the jungle (due to exhaustion) they immediately jump on and attack him "tearing with teeth and claws" to In the aftermath Ralph points out "That was

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	murder" is however most of the other boys refuse to accept this. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Piggy attempts to resolve the split between the two camps on the island by asking "which is better? to have laws and agree or to hunt and kill?" before his question can be answered, Roger (a boy with sadistic tendencies) rolls a rock on top of him with a "sense of delirious abandonment" destroying the conch which was the one symbol of civility and working together the of group had near the beginning of the novel.

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
•	At the end of the novel, a naval commander shows up just as Jack's tribe close in on Ralph in an attempt to kill him and states "says" "I would have expected a better show" says he would "expected better from a "better show" "British boys" than the "tribalistic conflict he witnesses when he "steps on the island.
	In conclusion, the novel shows conflict which arises in the power struggle between Ralph and his group including Simon and Piggy who seek peaceful existence and rescue; and Jack's group of hunters who use violence and

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
1	murder to get the their own way in matters. The beast ultimately serves as a catalyst as imagined fears serve as a way for people to boys to inflict pain and suffering in others in order to maintain safety for the group but this has causes terrible consequences when things get out of hand.
	summary: I will not for	