

Latin (Higher): Question Paper 2
Translating

Candidate evidence

Workshop 4

Candidate 1 evidence

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	Cicero left from the city. He was not able to escape from Antony for sure. He fled ^{to} the country house in Formiae, from where he set out in order to climb aboard a ship. But when wind took ^{took} the ship to the back to the beach, and he was not able to endure the rolling ship, he went back to the country house which is a little more than a mile from sea. away from sea. 'I will die', he said, 'in the homeland I have often saved.' The slaves were ready to fight, but by his order put down the ^{his} litter and accepted the cruel fate. Cicero stretched out his neck from out of the litter, and his head was cut off. Then the soldier's hands ^{which} was ^{had} 'so often were ^{written} against Antony, ^{were} was also cut off.

ENTER
NUMBER OF QUESTION

DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN

The head was taken back to Antony by his order and was put between the two hands on a public platform, where Cicero was at first consul, where often as ex consul, where that same year, such many clever speeches against Antony were made.

Candidate 2 evidence

ENTER QUESTION NUMBER BELOW	Do not type in this shaded box	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	Cicero having left from the city. Knew for sure that he would not be able to escape from Anthony. Having fled to his country house at Formiae, it was from where he would set out, in order to climb aboard a ship. But when the wind had taken the ship back to the beach, and he had not been able to endure the ship rolling, he had gone back to his country house which was a little more than a mile from the sea. "I am to die," he said, "In my homeland which I have often saved." His slaves were ready to fight, but they were ordered to put down the litter and accept they're cruel fates. Cicero stretched his neck out of the litter, and his head was cut off. Then the soldier also cut off the hands, which had so often written against Antony. The head was taken back from Antony and by his order was put between his two hands on the public platform, where at first while consul, where often as ex-consul, where that same year, he had made many such clever speeches against Anthony.

Candidate 3 evidence

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	Cicero was leaving from the city. He knew he was not able to escape from Antony for sure. He fled to the country house in Formiae, from where he set out in order to climb aboard a ship. But when the wind took the ship back to the beach, and he accepted the ship was not able to move, he went back to the country house which was a little more the than a mile from the sea.
	'I will die' he said, 'on the homeland which I often saved.' He ^{they were} was ready to save in and fight, but he ordered them to put down his litter and to accept cruel fate. Cicero's neck stretched out of the litter, and his head was cut off. Then the soldier ^{got his} got hand, which so often wrote against Antony, ^{and} was

ENTER
NUMBER OF QUESTION

DO NOT WRITE IN THIS
MARGIN

also cut off.

Antony took his head back and by his order ~~put his hands~~ between them put his ~~his~~ [Cicero's] two hands on a public platform, where Cicero was ~~first~~ a consul at first, ^{and} where he ~~was~~ ^{was} often an ex-consul, such cleverness in Antony where many speeches were made.

Candidate 4 evidence

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	The Fall of a Great Roman Cicero was leaving from the city.
	He made his speech knew for sure it was impossible to escape from Antony. He fled to a house at Formiae, from where he set out in order to climb aboard a ship. But when the wind had taken the ship back to the beach, and he was not able to endure

ENTER
NUMBER OF QUESTION

DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN

the rolling of the ship, he went back to the house which was a little more than a mile away from the sea.

"I will die" he said, "In my homeland which I have often saved."

~~When the slaves were ready to fight~~
~~but he ordered them to~~ slaves were ready to fight
but he ordered them to put down the litter and accept his cruel fate. Cicero stretched out

~~the~~ ^{his} neck from the litter, and he

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	cut off the ^{his} head. Then soldiers and also cut off his hands, which had written against Antony so often.
	The head was put on a public platform between the two hands and taken back to Antony by his order. Which ^{where} Cicero was Consul, often where he was ex-consul, where that same year, he had such cleverness in many speeches against Antony.	