Candidate 6 evidence

| (a) Internal and external pactors |  |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| institutional factors have        |  |
| influenced the way in             |  |
| which Shutter Island has          |  |
| been made.                        |  |
| Firstly, Shutter Island had       |  |
| a budget of $ $ 80,000,000      |  |
| dollars. This was an internal     |  |
| institutional factor that had     |  |
| an influence on the way           |  |
| Shuffer Island was made. As       |  |
| Shutter Island had a high         |  |
| budget, this mount that the       |  |
| producers could accord to         |  |
| make the sum the best that        |  |
| It could be by using any          |  |
| necessary props, equipment and    |  |
| actors l'activerses               |  |
| Secondly, & another internal      |  |
|                                   |  |

| a) institutional factor that affected  |
|--|
| Shufter Island was the parent  |
| company. The companies that  |
| were used in the production  |
| of Shutter Island were 20th  |
| Century Fox, Paramount Protoves  |
| and Pheonix productions All of   |
| these companies are known to   |
| avaduce high pupilify prime This   |
| produce high quality perms. This would have influenced how   |
| Chutton 1010 made was made long  |
| Shutter Island was made Using  |
| big production companies is an   |
| advantage for the film because   |
| I the audience will be able to   |
| relate to other films produced   |
| by these companies and know that   |
| this relin will be or good quality.  |
| Brazer production companies records  |
| Myger your confirmation of the second  |
| relate to other films produced by these companies and know that this film will be af good quality. Bigger production companies results the higher quality-pootage and expects. |

| a) The costing of Shutter Island:    |
|--------------------------------------|
| is another intemal institutional     |
| jactor. Using well known autors      |
| and directors such as Leanardo       |
| De Caprio and Martin Scorcese        |
| will gurantee profit for the         |
| company and as audrences will        |
| associate the cast members           |
| with good quality proms An           |
| external pactor that would           |
| affect Shutter Island would be       |
| social controls. Social controls     |
| have an agrect on the film           |
| be cause the audiences expertations  |
| will need to be fut into             |
| consideration. This is because some  |
| andiences will have watched Scorces  |
| pilms, Di Caprio films and have read |
| The book This could result in some   |

| a) audrences having high expectations                                  |
|--|
| for the film   |
| I When constructing Shutter  |
| Island, the director, Martin Some                                      |
| would have had to decree on an   |
| age restriction for the rolm.  |
| Shutter Island was rated a 15  |
| by the BBFC due to the bad   |
| language, adult content and the  |
| Idea of mental illnesser. However,                                     |
| if Scorcese had wanted the film  |
| to be a 12, this would have  |
| impacted the quality of the prim                                       |
| as scenes would have to be out   |
| and some of the script changed.  |
| Although age restriction limits the                                    |
| range of andience it benefits the                                      |
| film as some content and scener  |
| film as some content and scenes would be deleted if it was not inplace |

| a) Shutter Island's aim is to make    |
|---------------------------------------|
| profit and entertain the audience.    |
|                                       |
| The producers of the film             |
| Knew that profit would be generated   |
| by having well known, well vespeated  |
| actors recitaring in 4 Shutter        |
| Island. More profit could have been   |
|                                       |
| generated by producing a film that    |
| is based on a book because people     |
| who enjoyed the book are likely to go |
| and watch the film.                   |
| They made sure that the audrence      |
|                                       |
| would be entertained by using common  |
| Psychological Thriller and Film Non   |
| gence convertions as well as costing. |
| actors who varied audiences would     |
|                                       |
| have heard of.                        |
|                                       |
|                                       |
|                                       |

| 5) As Shutter Islands aim is to                                      |
|--|
| entertain the audience whilst  |
|  |
| generating profit, many narrativestructures were used influenced |
| by these institutional pactors.                                      |
| One of the narrative structure,                                      |
| that was influenced by these   |
| institutional pactors was Enigmon                                    |
| codes. This is when a series of                                      |
| Sienes are constructed to create                                     |
| questions amongst the audience                                       |
| In Shutter Island, & enigma codes                                    |
|  |
| which are also a common genre  |
|  |
| CONVENTION FOR FILM NOW / Bychological                               |
| Thulters Teddy's flashbacks reveal                                   |
| his experiences of war, his wife                                     |
| and his children. These create                                       |
| questions amongst the andrence as                                    |

|        | the thouse acconficient hard Today a wood | T             |
|--------|---|---------------|
|        | they question how Teddy's wife            | $\frac{1}{2}$ |
| 20     | dies and how his children died.           | _             |
|        | Using engine codes were influenced        |               |
|        | by the institutional factor of            |               |
| -      | wanting to entertain the andreace.        |               |
|        | Enigma codes were used successfully       |               |
|        | throughout the film to keep the           |               |
|        | audience entertained and engaged.         |               |
|        | Another narrative structure               |               |
| *      | which is influenced by institutional      |               |
|        | pactors is the Classic Hollywood          |               |
|        | Structure. This structure is when         |               |
|        | there is a male protagonist in the        |               |
|        | film where women are seen as              |               |
| enigna | objects or which the plin revolves        |               |
| 10     | around. This can be applied to Shatter    |               |
|        | Island as Teddy is the male protagonist   |               |
|        | in the film who is investigating          | -             |
| i      | Rachel (the object in the film) going     |               |
|        |   |               |

7 of 14

| b) missing from Ashecliffe Hospital.   |    |
|--|----|
| Throughout the film Teddy suffers      |    |
| from flashbacks of his dead wife       |    |
| The Teddy's wife is the engine in      |    |
| which the film revolves around as      |    |
| the audience quertions how she         |    |
| died. The nareafile structures         |    |
| Classic Hollywood nanothine            |    |
| structure was influenced by internal   |    |
| and external institutional pactors.    |    |
|  |    |
|  |    |
|  |    |
|  |    |
| Lastly, Todorov is another narrative   |    |
| structure which can be applied to      |    |
| Shutter Island. Todorov is a narrative |    |
| structure which involves a normality   |    |
| at the beginning of the film which is  | 54 |
|  | •  |

| b) soon durupted. This disruption and             |
|---|
| leads to a new normality being                    |
| formed at the end of the film. This               |
| navative structure can be applied to              |
|   |
| Shutter Island because the normality              |
| at the beginning of the film was                  |
| when Teddy and his partner Church were            |
| Investigating one of the patients going musing.   |
| The normality was soon disrupted when teddy       |
| The se adjust 172" waste at the said              |
| The is patient 67?" pinding the note: made        |
| Teddy start to questien who patient blows.        |
| When Teddy was interviewing one of the patients,  |
| she wrote 'RUN' on his note back making Teddy     |
| question why he was really there. A new           |
| normality is formed when Tedely wakes up in the   |
| lighthouse realising that he is infact potient 67 |
| Institutional pactors influenced the way that     |
| this narrative structured was constructed.        |

| c) Internal and external institutional   |
|--|
| factors have influenced the way          |
| that language codes and categories       |
| have been constructed in Shuffer Island. |
| Using a big production company           |
| has helped Shutter Island use            |
| technical and cultural codes. In the     |
| opening scene of Shutter Island, fog is  |
| used to create an anxious atmosphere     |
| about the hospital. Fog has connotation  |
| of uncertainty and that the journey      |
| you are about to go on is unclear. These |
| connotations can relate to Teddy and his |
| partner thack as they have an uncertain  |
| journey no ielea what this hospital is   |
|  |
| 20th Century Fox has enabled Scorsese    |
| to use high quality cameras and special  |
| effects to create a thick fog.           |
|  |

| c) Having the hospital situated on an island is another language rode thoot hos been used. An island has connotations of there is no escape. The connotations of an island can also relate to how the patients are seeling as they spend most of their time locked in their vacuum ar dealing with doctors and nurres. Having the hospital set on an island is a clever way to create sear among the guidence as many highly dangerous prisons in America are situated on an island. Low key lighting, a common psychological thirdler convention was used in Shutter Island. It was used when Teddy and Chack looked at Ward C, a distant civil war fort that held the most dangerous inmosted. |   |
|--|---|
| has been used. An island has connotations  at isolation, lone liness and feeling libe  there is no escape. The connotations of an island can also relate to how the  patients are feeling as they spend most of their time locked in their rooms  ar dealing with doctors and nurses.  Having the hespital set on an island is a clever way to create fear among the audience as many highly dangerous prisons in America are situated on an island Low key lighting, a common psychological thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chack located at Ward C, a distant civil war fort that held the most dangerous innucted.                                | c) Having the hospital situated on an             |
| has been used An island has connotations  at isolation, lone liness and peeling like  There is no escape. The connotations of  an island can also relate to how the  patients are peeling as they spend most  of their time locked in their vacina  or dealing with doctors and nurses:  Having the hespital set on an island  is a clever way to create fear among  the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on an  island Low key lighting, a common psychological  thirdler convention was used in shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmatted.                        |   |
| there is no escape. The connotations of an island can also relate to how the patients are seeling as they spend most of their time locked in their vocant are dealing with doctors and nurses.  Having the hespital set on an island is a clever way to create sear among the audience as many highly dangerous prisons in America are situated on an island. It was used when Teddy and Chack looked at Ward C, a distant civil war fort that held the most dangerous inmatted.   |   |
| there is no escape. The connotations of an island can also relate to how the patients are seeling as they spend most of their time locked in their vacins or dealing with doctors and nurses.  It away the hespital set on an island is a clever way to create sear among the audience as many highly dangerous prisons in America are situated on an island. Low key lightny, a common psychological thriller convention was used in Shutter Island. It was used when Teddy and Chack looked at Ward C, a distant civil war fort that held the most dangerous inmosted.   |   |
| an island can also relate to how the  patients are perling as they spend most  of their time locked in their vocans  or dealing with doctors and nurses:  Having the hespital set on an island  is a clever way to create pear among  the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on an  island Low key lighting, a common psychological  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war port  that held the most dangerous inmotted.   |   |
| patients are seeling as they spend most of their time locked in their rooms ar dealing with doctors and nurses.  Having the hospital set on an island is a clever way to create sear among the audience as many highly dangerous prisons in America are situated on an island Low key lighting, a common psychological thriller convention was used in Shutter Island. It was used when Teddy and Chack loaked at Ward C, a distant civil war fort that held the most dangerous inmotted.  |   |
| of their time locked in their vocane or dealing with doctors and nurses.  If aring the hospital set on an island  IS a clever way to create rear among the audience as many highly dangerous prisons in America are situated on an Island Low key lighting, a common psychological thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chack looked at Ward C, a distant civil way fort that held the most dangerous inmatted.   |   |
| ar dealing with doctors and nurses.  Having the hospital set on an island  IS a clever way to create fear among  the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on an  Island Low Key lighting, a common psychological  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmatted.  |   |
| ar dealing with doctors and nurses.  Having the hospital set on an island  IS a clever way to create fear among  the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on an  Island Low Key lighting, a common psychological  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmatted.  | of their time locked in their vooms               |
| Having the hespital set on an island  IS a clever way to create fear among  the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on an  island Low key lighting, a common psychological  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil way port  that held the most dangerous inmatted.   |   |
| IS a clever way to create fear among  the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on on  island Low key lighting, a common psychologica  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chack looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmotted.  | Having the hespital set on an island              |
| the audience as many highly dangerous  prisons in America are situated on an  island Low key lightly, a common psychological  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war port  that held the most dangerous inmotted.  | is a clever way to create rear among              |
| prisons in America are situated on an  Island Low Key lighting, a common psychological  Apriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chack looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war port  that held the most dangerous inmotted.  | the audience as many highly dangerous             |
| Island Low Key lighting, a common psychological  thriller convention was used in Shutter Island.  It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war port  that held the most dangerous inmotted.   |   |
| It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmotted.   | Island Low Key lighting, a common psychological   |
| It was used when Teddy and Chuck looked  at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmotted.   | thriller convention was used in shutter Island.   |
| at Ward C, a distant civil war fort  that held the most dangerous inmotted.  |   |
| that held the most dangerous inmotted.   |   |
|  |   |
|  |   |
| The civil war fort was grey campared to the other  | The civil war fort was grey compared to the other |

| c) wards which were brown outh well looked     |
|--|
| after gardens. Institutional factors also      |
| inpluenced the way in which categories         |
| were wood constructed. The genre of            |
| Shutter Island is a Psychological Thriller/    |
| Film Noir, of Having the correct director      |
| and cost would have influenced the             |
| way quality of the film: Using Scorere,        |
| whe is a director known to produce             |
| good quality thriller films would have         |
| improved the film overall As psychological     |
| thrillers deal with a very serious tene it     |
| was essential that the main characters         |
| would be able to carry out there votes         |
| to the best of their ability. Casting Leonardo |
| Di Caprio was a good decision made by the      |
| producers as his arting covers skills have     |
| been known to play the vole of                 |
| difficult characters very well.                |
|  |

| 1 Another language code which is also                                     |
|---|
| c) Another language code which is also used to help define a serious time |
| in Shutter Island is the weather  |
| Throughout Shutter Island, the weather                                    |
| is never sunny. This highlights to the                                    |
| andience that the tone of the film  |
| is sevices because the connetations of                                    |
| sun is happy and fun. As the  |
| sun is happy me and fun. As the   |
| to turn worse. There is more thurson                                      |
| storms. In particular when Teddy and                                      |
| Chuck are near the graveyard, the   |
| guard has to come and vescae them.  |
| This bad wenther and being strict antide                                  |
| leaves Teddy having to change his   |
| clothes. The change in clother makes                                      |
| Teddy look more and mere like a   |
| patient. The weather also symbolizes                                      |
| Teddy's mind As the weather get worse,                                    |

| 1+ symbolises Teddy 's mind becoming |  |
|--------------------------------------|--|
| more insane and unstable.            |  |
|                                      |  |