

Candidate 6 evidence

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
40a	One type of suffering is an ps psych phs physical suffering, this is like being tortured or physical harmed which causes you to suffer. Another type of suffering is emotional suffering. This is when you suffer from things like grief which causes you to suffer and you to suffer. Another type of suffering is mental. This when you suffer mentally from things like depression or anxiety.

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
40b	I both agree and disagree that we should expect god to <sup>end</sup> suffering
40c	I agree that god should put an end to suffering because he has created life and suffering so must also put an end to suffering.

	41	A theodicy I studied was the Augustinian Theodicy. This theodicy says that when god created humans we were created perfect. God then gave us Free will. Humans then misused their free will which resulted in the cause for suffering and evil. This theodicy portrays that we brought evil upon ourselves when god was just trying to be good to us. This theodicy also says that evil isn't actually real but evil is just an absense of good. This theodicy shows that the absense of good was self inflicted onto humans.
	42a	determinism is the belief that when god created the world he decided everything. This means that anything that happens, happens because god says it does and that

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
	Just how it works. For example, determinists believe that we don't have free will because god has decided everything already so we have no choice.

42b I agree and disagree that suffering and evil
expl is explained that free will explains suffering and evil

I agree that suffering and evil can be caused by Free will because bad things happen due to our choices which free will is responsible for.

I also agree the free will explains suffering and evil because the world was perfect when god created it so it had to be our fault.

I also agree that free will explains suffering and evil because god doesn't want we have to be punished for bad decisions; so we use our free will but get punished with suffering and evil.

I also agree that free will explains suffering and evil because when people do good things we don't suffer

ENTER
NUMBER OF QUESTION

DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN

So using your free will to do bad explains the need for suffering.

However I also disagree that free will is the explanation for suffering and evil because bad things that cause suffering also happen naturally like volcanos and earthquakes

I also disagree because free will was a gift from god and god wouldn't intentionally give us something that could end up hurting us.

I also disagree because people suffer without having used their free will like ill babies or people who can't make decisions independantly.

I also disagree that free will is the explanation for suffering and evil because people who do bad things don't always get in trouble even ~~if~~ when they should.