

Candidate 5 evidence

	MARKS
Source B (below) is from a speech written by an Athenian citizen, Aeschines, for a trial in Athens (4th century BC).  Gentlemen of the jury, I tell you this. When a case is tried in court, the day is divided into three parts. The water clock is first filled for the accuser, a second time for the defendant and those who speak on the question at issue; but when the question of guilt has been decided by the first vote, then the clock is filled again for the question of the penalty and the extent of your anger.  6. Evaluate the usefulness of Source B for the study of the law courts in Athens in the 5th century BC. You could comment on who wrote it, when they wrote it, what they say, why they say it or what it has missed out.	4

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION		DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
6.	Source B is useful as it was written in the 4 th century. This was during Athens classical era. It's also useful as it was written by Aeschines. He was an Athenian citizen. This source is from a court case that happened in Athens. However this source is not useful as it doesn't mention women weren't allowed to take part.	