Task Number

one quarter of students study either at college or university, & still live with their families or with their parents. Costs wouldn't be much problem for students who stay with their family as they do not have to pay rent money, food, clothes and bills as they are all being paid for. ~~commuting time~~ commuting time will also not be a problem for students, as they don't have to skype or call their family every often, to see how they are getting on since they are always present. Which also means whenever they need support or help, their family members will always be there to support him or her.

But when it comes to studying, it is different, as they will be constantly disturbed by their siblings or parents, not leaving them alone can have an impact on their studying time, especially when exams are deadlines ~~are~~ ~~will~~ coming up and need quiet time.

Students will also not have made independence, as family members know what you are up to, and will never give you quiet time, or leave you alone.

Depending on what the student is studying, social life is needed to, to interact with people/friends who are from the same city and hang around. They can also study with their friends in the library or go to the closest campus / university day study at it get some quiet time there.
