

Candidate evidence

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
25.	Pliny describes the house as haunted, he describes the noises made at night-time by iron and chains and he describes the ghost as filthy and skinny.
26.	a) He had heard it was haunted and wanted to know if it was true. The house was ^{also} more expensive to buy than rent. b) i) He asked for a tablet ^{to write with} and a pen. ii) This would have been used to write stories and record information in Roman times. They were used rather than paper.
27.	a) Yes, a philosopher usually already has interest in supernatural and what happens after death so a ghost may have been an idea they had already experimented with. b) No, most ordinary people fear death and would avoid it at all costs. Death ^{A ghost} may also have been considered a bad omen which would

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
27b)	also make them fearful.
28.	a) Athenodorus follows it. b) the ghost disappears. c) Athenodorus marks the spot where the ghost disappeared and the next day orders it to be dug up. because he has a suspicion a body may be there that did not receive a proper burial so is ^{now} a ghost.
29.	Athenodorus orders the ground to be dug up where they find a skeleton wrapped in chains, A funeral and burial procession is then held, so the ghost can be at peace.
30.	a) The dolphin approaches him and swims around him, under him, and puts him on its back, to play with him and be friendly.

ENTER NUMBER OF QUESTION	DO NOT WRITE IN THIS MARGIN
30.	b) Pliny uses lots of commas and breaks in narration to show the pace that the news spread and the shock created by the news.
31.	Watching the other boy play with it and having fun riding on its back, they wanted to join in as they could see it wasn't dangerous.
32.	If tourists were attracted they came in their masses and expected to be looked after hand and foot.
	Government officials did not have to pay for their holidays it was ^{paid for out} covered from the expense of their destination.
	Tourists were often loud and rowdy. And

