

She was ~~try~~ holding newborn baby trying to make him stop crying. I wanted help her but I ~~couldn't~~ couldn't. I was talking to other client, but I asked James can he take care of that ~~woman~~ woman and he just refuse. He explain that he don't like kids and he's not going to help her. That was ridiculous! I write a report later on ~~it~~ about this situation.

Teamwork training

We should work like a team. It's important to ~~hear~~ hear others opinions and respect them. In teamwork we should have a leader ~~or~~, older person with or lot of experience, younger person with new ideas. For now we have only mix of young ~~or~~ people with a lot of ideas but none of them don't have enough experience. Also not everybody is able to respect others opinions and ideas.

In my opinion programme of this training events is the best way to show co-workers what to do and practise to gain more experience and new skills.

Sincerely
