

because that's kind of cheating. The best thing is to memorise your notes so that will be easier for you to study and you won't have so much stuff to study. Before you go to the exam you should go over your notes if you're not sure about something. Always make notes for yourself which makes everything easy and ~~do~~ you don't need to panic while you are doing your exams because if you do you can forget something.